The Movements of Santa Anna. Our readers will be interested in Santa Anna's letter from Mr. Hudson, a Representative from Masmovements. He was at Cedral when he heard of the sachusetts, to Mr. Gentry, of Tennessee, in relation revolutionary attempt on the city of Mexico. He to the increased demand for our breadstuffs in Euwrote thence on the 3d March, avowing h sopposition rope and England. The great aim of the writer was to the attempt, and then pushed on to Matchuala. He to show, that neither our own low tariff, nor the rewrote thence on the 6th ult., to the Secretary of War, peal of the British corn laws, has had anything to do announcing that he would march on the capital with with the increase of the demand for grain and meat, a large division of his force, and put down the revo- and that of their price. There is some truth but lution. Another letter of the same date to Gomez more error in his speculations. Farias is full of kindness for him, and vengeance upon "I know," says Mr. Hudson, "of no period when Laws of the United States, passed at the the traitors. One passage amused us: "With reason there has been such a failure of crops in all parts of Taylor remarked at Saltillo three weeks since, 'I do Europe as during the past year; and hence the genenot fear Santa Anna; there will be a revolution in ral apprehension of famine, not only in Ireland, but Mexico very soon, and he will be deposed." This letter would lead one to suppose conclusively that he intended to put down the attempt against Gomez Farias's administration. He denounces in unqualified terms the attempt at a revolution at such a time.

But the day after, March 10th, he wrote two other letters to Mexico-one to Gen. Barragan, the head of the revolutionary party, the other to Gomez Farias. In these his tone is altered. He denounces civil dissentions, but is considerate in seeking terms of courtesy towards Barrangan and Farias. He conjures them to desist from further hostilities in the capital, and announces his purpose of proceeding thither immediately. He tells Barragan not to tear for himself or others compromised by the revolutionary attempt; that he has but one desire, to unite all Mexicans, &c. &c. The letter to Gomez Farias is of such political importance that we make a hasty translation of it:

One thing, however, is certain, that the prestige of Santa Anna's name has greatly weakened under the heavy fire of our artillery and rifles at Buena Vista. The military power of the nation has been utterly destroyed by this disastrons tight. The words "triumph," "trophies," and "invincible bravery," with which Santa Anna mocks their misery and misfortune, cannot blind them to the sad proofs of defeat and disaster which lie around them.
